High Line Canal Conservancy
The High Line Canal Conservancy is a nonprofit organization with a mission to preserve, protect and enhance the 71-mile long High Line Canal in partnership with the public. The Conservancy was formed in 2014 by a passionate coalition of private citizens to provide leadership and harness the region’s commitment to protecting the future of the Canal—a 100-foot-wide corridor comprising the Canal channel, trail and adjacent vegetation. With support from each of the 11 jurisdictions along the Canal’s reach, and in partnership with Denver Water, the Conservancy is working to ensure that the Canal is protected and enhanced for future generations. Position Summary
This position provides a unique opportunity to be part of a growing nonprofit dedicated to the long-term protection and enhancement of one of the metro region’s largest and most unique recreational and ecological assets. The Community Outreach Coordinator will serve as one of the public faces for the Conservancy. The Coordinator will oversee a small, but growing suite of programs, manage and grow the volunteer program and support grant writing and management. The successful candidate will work under guidance from Executive Director and the Director of Marketing and Community Outreach. The position includes planning, organizing, implementing, tracking and evaluating programmatic initiatives. In addition, in collaboration with the development staff, this position will support research, planning, writing and monitoring grants.

This position description in no way states or implies that these are the only duties to be performed by the Community Outreach Coordinator.

Program and Outreach Coordination
The position coordinates the Conservancy’s development and implementation of community programs and projects, which includes partnering with governmental entities, agencies and nonprofits to enhance and protect the Canal, with a focus on collective impact. Under direction and with support from the Director of Marketing and Community Outreach, this energetic and passionate professional will coordinate and manage the Conservancy’s growing suite of programs for the public, including, but not limited to walking programs, outreach tabling on the Canal, volunteer training and management, educational and stewardship programs. About 20 percent of the position working hours will be spent on the Canal and in the communities adjacent, with this percentage growing over the summer months. As part of the program planning, the position will support and be part of the team developing and managing a grant program that supports the Conservancy program and projects plans.
